To the AUTHOR of the WEEKLY REGISTER.

COULD Satire ſleep in ſuch abandon'd Times,
Or wink at Envy's Rage, or Treaſon's Crimes,
The Muſe's Voice ſhould burſt th' inglorious Chain,
And arm the Goddeſs for the Field again;
Riſe, Satire riſe, impartially ſevere,
With keen Invective wound the guilty Ear,
Collect thy Vengeance, kindle all thy Rage,
With thy whole Genius animate my Page,
And let the Storm deſcend on a licentious Age.
Behold the Preſs, the Baſis of thy Reign!
By Law ſet free, by Craft enſlav'd again;
Truth yields to Paſſion, Wit is Falſhood's Friend,
And Malice kills what Vertue ſhould defend;
Treaſon reforms, and Folly blames the State,
And Faction joins with Phrenzy to be Great:
The * Art of Cadmus, like the Dragon's Teeth,
Teems with Rebellion, and would waken Death;
Another Earth-born Hoſt, an Iron Brood!
Reſolv'd on Miſchief, and athirſt for Blood,
With dire Impatience round their Leaders ſtand,
And ſound Sedition thro' the frighted Land.
Satire be bold! thy Foes deſerve thy Frown,
And let thy Juſtice like their Guilt be known;
Aſſert, reform thy own celeſtial Art,
Encounter Fraud, with Wit's unerring Dart,
And wing Conviction to the Traytor's Heart:
If Scandal poiſons Vertue's ſacred Name,
If Wiſdom ſuffers with the Blaſt of Shame,
Let thy impartial Hand remove the Cauſe,
And crown the Injur'd with a due Applauſe;
Let Slander tremble when thy Shaft appears,
And Guilt foreſee the Vengeance that it fears.
——Behold how D'Anvers, turbulent, and loud,
Inſults his King, to court the giddy Crowd,
How, raſhly bold, and inſolently vain,
He treats the Pow'r, that ſav'd him, with Diſdain!
Falſe without Terror, faithful to no End,
A harmleſs Foe! and a deceitful Friend!
What Numbers to the Maſter-Fury join!
How all perſue the ſame accurſt Deſign!
The ſame dire Paſſions glare in ev'ry Face,
A deſp'rate Band, united by Diſgrace!
Of Pow'r unworthy, yet upheld by Pride,
Abortive Stateſmen who in Embrio dy'd;
The would-be Patriots who, like Quacks, proclaim
Their matchleſs Art, and boaſt their mighty Fame;
Who feel the Nation's Pulſe, conſult, adviſe,
And purge the Conſtitution till it dies.
——Satire diſtinguiſh your applauded Sage,
Reſtoring Freedom to a free-born Age;
Should Oldcaſtle eſcape unheeded by,
'Twould argue Blindneſs in thy piercing Eye;
No Patriot more deſerves thy keeneſt Strain,
And ſo much Merit ne'er ſhould plead in vain.
When Malice had exhauſted all its Skill,
And Fraud, and Envy dropt the weary Quill;
When Clamour half inclin'd to ſtill its Roar,
And Faction wept that ſhe could rail no more;
When tir'd Attention ſlept as Dulneſs read,
And Diſaffection ſicken'd as it fed;
Diſcord, unwilling to withdraw her Aid,
Or quit the Tumult ſhe herſelf had made,
Produc'd this Champion to ſupport the Cauſe,
And bid her Sons receive him with Applauſe.
——Hence rev'rend Learning mourns her injur'd Truſt,
And tortur'd Annals are no longer juſt;
Not Fame, or Vertue from Reproach can ſave,
And Scandal dares to violate the Grave;
With impious Foot profanes the hallow'd Ground,
And mocks the Guardian Statues trembling round;
Breaks up the Marble ſacred to Repoſe,
And makes the ſleeping Dead their Country's Foes;
Diſturbs the Duſt of Kings diſmiſs'd in vain
From pompous Woe, and Scenes of Royal Pain,
Reflects Diſhonour on each mighty Shade,
And ſtrives to wrong the Living in the Dead.
So Magic feigns with Hell-born Charms to break
The Sleep of Death, and bid Corruption wake;
Trembling the ghaſtly Form before it ſtands,
And ſullenly receives its dire Commands;
Compell'd on Miſchief that he fain would ſhun,
And aw'd by Pow'r ſuperior to his own.
Satire behold the Critick Book-worms, Toil,
And trace his Steps thro' every Maze of Guile!
Where Party-Rage deſtroys the Publick-Good,
And Pity writes the bluſhing Page in Blood,
His guilty Pen renews the fatal Stain,
And hopes to wake the horrid Scene again:
Where Fraud's mean Heart, or Pow'rs vindictive Hand
Has ſpread Misfortune o'er the mourning Land,
The preſent Age, this Son of Faction cries,
Is full as wicked, but not half as wiſe:
If Vertue ſhines in full meridian Ray,
And Monarchs make their Evening, like their Day,
Our Sun is darken'd in the cleareſt Sky,
'Tis dim Eclipſe, and all his Glories die.
——Diſcord, thro' ev'ry Libel, ſounds a Charge,
Diſdains Controul, and writes her Name at large;
Uprears her Standard, laughs at idle Fear,
Cries Havock, longs to ſlip the Dogs of War,
To free Rebellion from her pond'rous Chain,
And give Deſtruction boundleſs Leave to reign.
——Such is the Spirit of this vaunted Sage,
And ſuch his Doctrines to reform the Age;
BRITANNIA hears, but hears with Rage and Scorn,
Grieves that ſuch Monſters in her Clime were born;
Grieves that her Sons ſhould aggravate her Woes,
Grieves that her Sons are number'd with her Foes;
To great AUGUSTUS turns her weeping Eyes,
To him, as to a God, for Refuge flies,
And on his guardian Care, her ſureſt Hope! relies.
Now Satire I diſmiſs thee from thy Toil,
AUGUSTUS charms thee to repoſe a-while;
When he appears, the Muſes hail their King,
And Satire drops her diſappointed Sting——
Let D'Anvers rave in Impotence of Pow'r,
And run his Round of Malice o'er, and o'er;
Let Scandal Volumes upon Volumes crowd,
Till the Preſs groan beneath the weighty Load;
Let Time himſelf his wonted Rage forbear,
And make this boaſted Work his annual Care;
That future Princes of the Brunſwick Race,
May know the Arts of Patriots in Diſgrace;
May ſee how Vertue, with a Smile, endur'd
What Pow'r had puniſh'd, or Corruption cur'd;
How Craft, for Years, a Maze of Guilt perſu'd,
And Vengeance long'd to dip her Hands in Blood;
May wonder ſuch a Length of Rage ſhould fail,
Or Innocence itſelf at laſt prevail;
May copy from their great Foreſather's Reign,
And ſuffer Diſcontent to pine in vain.

The Annotations on Mr. BOWMAN's Sermon in a Letter to Mother BAVIUS, (publiſh'd laſt Week in the Grub-ſtreet Journal) paraphras'd in Rhyme.

I thought it proper, e'en without receiving any Pence,
T' inſert this Letter in Rhime, ſince I could not make it Senſe.
BAVIUS in Grub. Aug. 19.

DEAR Goody! you have ſeen, no Doubt,
A Pamphlet with this Title to't
" OLD WIVES, Traditions to retain,
" Will of Religion be the Bane:
" A Sermon, at a Viſita-
" tion held in Yorkſhire t'other Day,
" By WILLIAM BOWMAN preach'd."—Now whether
The Biſhop, (or Arch-biſhop rather)
Or Deacon-Arch, this Viſit made,
Is no where in the Title ſaid.
But be that as it will——ſince all
Penalties eccleſiaſtical,
(Which, let me tell ye, this ſame BOWMAN
Has richly merited——or no Man)
Are out of Faſhion——as ſome ſay
They ſhould be——at this Time of Day,
And all Things elſe, which clog the Progreſs
Of our Free-thinkers, who, have no Grace;
And hinder Men from broaching Schiſm,
And ev'ry Antichriſtianiſm.
The only Way remaining yet,
(Alas I ſpeak it with Regret!)
To perſecute ſuch Men as Think,
Is to beſpatter them with Ink.
Therefore as well as I am able,
Like High-church-man uncharitable
And furious, —— Such a one d'ye ſee
As I profeſs myſelf to be;
I'm thus reſolv'd to perſecute
This Vicar —— others may confute.——
But to be ſerious now, and grave as
A Judge, —— I'll tell ye Mother BAVIUS.
Tho' thus I threaten, I proteſt
That all the while, I'm but in jeſt:
I don't deſign to write a Farce on
This more than ordinary Parſon,
Who is, by no Means, worth my Notice,
He ſuch a Scandal to his Coat is.
But what I would be at, is this,
To give one Inſtance, of the diſtinguiſhing Genius of this Age,
Which, maugre all good Chriſtian Rage,
Is almoſt daily brought-to-Bed, of
Such Monſters, as you never read of.
Were ſuch Things new they'd make one mad
An Heart of Oak would break —— egad!
The Sight of this would give me Fits,
And ſcare me quite out of my Wits:
Howe'er it is, I hardly know,
I find myſelf but juſt ſo ſo.
This dev'liſh Libel in my Hand,
Has put me to a curſed Stand:
For, puzzled between Wrath and Scorn,
I'm at a Loſs which Way to turn.
So wicked 'tis, and ſo pernicious,
It calls for Anſwer expeditious:
But then, ſo ſtupid and ſo dull,
Who anſwers, writes himſelf a Fool.
What ſhall I do now —— Leave my Church
Poor Gentlewoman! in the lurch?
Forbid it Zeal! and let me paſs
Humbly contented —— for an Aſs;
As my grave Brethren daily do.——
But let us now the Point purſue.
Monſter appear! and all ye People,
View one that ſets at nought the Steeple!
At publick Viſitation, ſee!
A Parſon dreſt up Cap-a-pe
In Guiſe right holy; and in Box
Moſt reverend and orthodox;
Spitting about the Church in troth,
As if he'd got a Quid in's Mouth:
And ſaying ſuch Things of the Clergy,
As would, to beat his Brains out, urge ye:
To wit: " That they to damn or ſave
" Excomm'nicate, ride and enſlave
" Poor Laymen, juſt as they think fit,
" Ne'er had divine Commiſſion yet.
" Nor have they ev'n a Right, he ſaith,
" To Cook-up Fricaſſees of Faith."
Then, with a Sneer, you'll find him ever a
Anon, repeating the Word Reverend.
With more ſuch Blaſphemies moſt dreadful!
Of which he ſeems to have his Head full.
Now, after venting this damn'd Stuff,
For which no Death is bad enough,
As void of Shame as is the Devil, he
Complains of being us'd uncivilly;
And that " Some Brethren diſcontented.
" His Sermon had miſrepreſented."
But Wit and Dulneſs I defy,
And hair-brain'd Zeal and Villany,
To make it worſe than 'tis in Print.
For if they can —— the Devil's in't.
" Some Reverend Brothers, he ſays, blam'd it.
Blood! —— every one that heard it, damn'd it!
I'll warrant ye, look Yorkſhire round,
Yorkſhire, ſo worthily renown'd
For Orthodoxy and Horſe-ſtealing,
Not one, to take his Part, is willing;
Not one, I ſay, for be it known t'ye,
Two BOWMANS breathe not in that County,
He impudently does declare
What we can never grant nor bear:
" That Truth is amiable and bright;
" Bigotry horrible as Night:

" And that, if pious Oxford bred ye, 'tis
" A Sign your Noddle's full of Prejudice."
Such is th' eternal canting Strain
Of Upſtarts empty, crude and vain.
He grumbles too, becauſe we treat
Him in the Stile of Billingſgate:
A Stile ſo proper to the Cloth,
When once provok'd to godly Wrath.
No ſooner ſuch a Wretch as he
Scrawls out a Libel, but, d'ye ſee?
Forthwith upon him we beſtow
The foulest Language we can throw;
And all too good —— yet this he blames,
And crys forſooth, 'tis calling Names.
But did not TULLY (I would ask all
The World) call CAT'LINE Rogue and Raſcal.
And twenty Names beſide —— yet no Man
Takes TULLY for an ill-bred Roman,
Or CATALINE for ſuch a Wretch as BOWMAN.
Then ſay, ye Sons of Schiſm! why charge ye
Rag-Manners thus upon the Clergy?
Poor CAT'LINE only was a Traytor,
But BOWMAN's a Tradition-hater.
Now let th' Impartial, judge which worſe is,
And merits moſt Ill-Names and Curſes.
The Preachment of ſuch odious Vermin
I can't in Conſcience call a Sermon:
For tho' he aims to take a damn'd Flight,
The Thing's no better than a Pamphlet.
Of Argument therein, could I
The ſmalleſt Glimpſe or Shadow ſpy,
I muſt acknowledge, then indeed
Of calling Names there'd be no Need.
He ſays that Things are ſo and ſo:
But that's no Argument you know
Which he has any Right to chuſe;
Tho't's what the Orthodox may uſe.
To judge of him by this Work famous,
He hardly knows a Man from a Mouſe;
Nor even the Diff'rence (pray obſerve ye)
'Twixt upſide-down and topſy-turvy.
If this Performance is a Sample
Of what he calls a Work more ample,
Well may we, Goody BAVIUS, gueſs
That Work will prove a hopeful Piece.
What tho' he vapours, and looks big;
Th' Author of Th' Independent Whig,
And he who wrote The Rights, I fancy,
Have ſaid as much as Mortals can ſay:
And therefore this pragmatic Puppy
Can do but little more than copy.
'Tis true, —— their Writings are quite graceleſs,
Yet ſure their Sins are in this Caſe, leſs
Than his —— for he, without Compunction,
Dares to profane his holy Function.
And yet, he talks a World of Nonſenſe
About his Duty and his Conſcience;
And ſays he values not a Fart
Or Pillory, or the Tail of Cart;
A ſneering Dog! —— full well he knows,
Which Way the World at preſent goes!
Time was, he durſt not for his Ears,
Have run his rig thus on his Peers.
And ſhould we ſee ſuch Times again,
Faith we ſhould ſpoil his merry Vein!
Thus far his Preface —— in my next,
I'll note his handling of the Text.

Mr. Fitz-Williams, Page of Honour to his Majeſty, fell with his Horſe in a Coney-Borough, and was much bruiſed, the Horſe tumbling over him on the Ground, and he was carried off by the Lord Albemarle to a Keeper's Houſe, to be let Blood: A Servant belonging to the Queen's Coachmaker likewiſe fell, as he was riding at a little Diſtance behind the Queen's Chaiſe, and was hurt: Her Majeſty and the Princeſs Mary in the Chaiſe came in at the Death of the Stag, who ran about two Hours.

When the Royal Family had done hunting in Richmond New Park, and were gone over Kingston Bridge, the four Malefactors were carried out of the Stockhouſe Priſon in that Town to the Gallows, and there executed.

The Eaſt-India Company are hourly in Expectation of the Arrival of the Duke of York from Bengal, which is ſaid to be the richeſt Ship from thoſe Parts for ſome Time, her Cargoe being valued at 200,000l. Sterling.

The Apollo, belonging to the Oſtend Company, came through the Streights of Malacca, where lay five Dutch Ships, to intercept her Paſſage, who fired at her; but the Oſtender bearing away, with the Favour of a fair Wind, got ſafe through the Streights, and is now put into Ireland.

On Tueſday in the Afternoon, Samuel Cherry, who was committed to Newgate by Juſtice Manley, for ſtabbing one Longworth of Coleman-ſtreet, on a Provocation given him by the ſaid Longworth, when he was poſted as a Centinel over the Arms in the Artillery-Ground, on Tueſday Se'nnight, was admitted to Bail by the above-ſaid Juſtice; an Affidavit being made before him, that Longworth, being much recover'd, was thought to be out of Danger.

Extract of a Letter from Cadiz, dated Auguſt 14. N. S.

Two Days ago, arrived here Sir Charles Wager, with the Fleet under his Command, who was received with the utmoſt Complaiſance, and is to ſet out for Seville this Week; but if our Fleet is to wait for the Spaniſh one, in all Likelihood they will winter here, at leaſt at preſent they move but ſlowly. You have ſeen that the Arrival of the Azogues has not produced the Delivery of the Treaſure of the Flotilla, as expected; but we hope that the Preſence of Sir Charles Wager will produce ſome agreeable Change in the Affairs of the Commerce of this Place. On the 11th Inſtant, was held a Meeting of the Weſt-India Commerce, in which the Prior of the Conſulado was deputed to go to Seville, with Power to adjuſt with Don Joſeph Patinho about the Delivery of the Money brought by the Flotilla and Azogues on reaſonable Terms. It is ſaid he has Orders to offer the King a Loan of 500,000 Dollars if neceſſary. The next Day he ſet out accordingly; but what the Succeſs may be, is uncertain, he having ſo great and able a Stateſman to deal with. It is believed the Azogues or Quickſilver Ships may ſail in two or three Days for La Vera Cruz; and with them the Regiſters for the Carraccas and Havanna.

Robberies. On Monday Night Mr. Hooker, a Malſter at Walton upon Thames, returning home from Kingſton, was robbed by two Foot-pads, a little beyond Moſſey, who took from him 4s. 6d. and made off.——On Tueſday Night the Dwelling Houſe of Samuel Drayton, Eſq; in Leiceſter-fields, was broke open and robb'd of Goods to a conſiderable Value: It is remarkable about a Fortnight ago the ſame was ſtript of the Lead, which makes it ſuſpected the ſame Perſons are concern'd in this Robbery.

Preferment. ——Fitz-Williams, Gent. who at the late Reduction of the Forces was admitted on the Half-Pay Eſtabliſhment, is, by his Majeſty's Command, made Enſign of an independent Company at Sheerneſs, in the room of Enſign Pemberton, lately deceas'd.

Deaths. Yeſterday Morning Mr. Fuſt, an eminent Wine-Cooper, died ſuddenly of an Apopleſtick Fit, as he was coming out of his Houſe in Crutched-Fryars.——The ſame Day died very rich, Mrs. Philips, Widow of Mr. Philips, late a great Coachmaker in St. Martin's-Lane near Charing-Croſs.——Dublin, Auguſt 18. On Monday Morning died in Child-bed of her firſt Child, the Lady Emilia Plunket, Siſter to the Right Hon. the Earl of Fingal, and Wife to Robert Nugent, of the County of Weſt-Meath, Eſq; to whom ſhe had been married about eight Years.

FRIDAY, Auguſt 27.

Yeſterday about One o'Clock the Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor went with the uſual State to the Parliament Houſe, and by his Majeſty's Order prorogued the Parliament to the 9th of November next.

The Lords of the Treaſury have lately granted an Order for the paying to the Treaſurer of his Majeſty's Navy, the Sum of 64,230l. 11s. and 2d. ½. for diſcharging his Majeſty's Ships which are order'd to be paid off.

A Gentleman of the Roman Catholick Perſuaſion, embraced that of the Church of England, when the Ceremony was performed in the Royal Chapel at St. James's by the Rev. Dr. Aſpinwall, Sub Dean of the Chapel.

On Friday laſt at the York Races the 20l. Galloway Plate was won by Mr. Dixon's Horſe. And on Saturday the Hunter's 25 Guineas Plate, being run for by Hunters, and rode by Gentlemen, was won by Capt. Gee's Fox-hunter, which was rode by Capt. Thompſon.

On Wedneſday at the Races on Bromley-Common in Kent, the Purſe of 10 Guineas was won by Mr. Wade's Black Mare.

On Monday Night laſt, about Eleven o'Clock, Mr. Orator Henley was attacked by two Street-Robbers, but he made ſo brave a Reſiſtance, that the Rogues thought fit to make off.

On Wedneſday one Joſeph Jolly fell from a Ship by the Tower, and was ſmother'd in Water and Mud.

The ſame Day one Peter Johnſon fell from the Deck of a Ship at Limehouſe into the Hold, and was kill'd by the Fall.

On Wedneſday laſt a Couple went into the Fleet to be married, the Woman being a Quaker, but the Miniſter refus'd to perform the Ceremony unleſs ſhe would ſubmit to be baptiz'd, which, upon mature Conſideration ſhe comply'd with, (the Bridegroom ſtanding Godfather) and then they were married.

They write from Norwich, that on Thurſday the 19th Inſt. a Cauſe of great Conſequence to the Navigation was tried before the Lord Chief Juſtice Raymond, between Edward Turner, Eſq; Plaintiff, and Henry Grey, Eſq; Defendant for the King, relating to ſome Beacons or Light-Houſes at Winterton and Winterton Neſs; when after a Hearing of four Hours the Plaintiff was nonſuited.

On Tueſday laſt Mr. Hurſt, an Undertaker in Eagle-ſtreet, was robbed of 25l. in his Return from the Burial of the Lady Atkyns of Little Ormond-ſtreet, at Clapham.——Yeſterday a Man was committed to Newgate by Juſtice De Veil, for robbing Rebecca White in the Street of her Pocket, in which there was Money and other Things. ——The ſame Day a Man was committed to the ſaid Goal for cutting off a Woman's Pocket in Bartholomew-Fair.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ROME, Auguſt 11. In a private Conſiſtory held on the 6th Inſtant, the Pope, with the Conſent of 31 Cardinals then preſent, aboliſhed all the Articles of Accommodation concluded under the late Pontificate with the Court of Turin; but his Holineſs at the ſame Time confirm'd all that was granted to the Houſe of Savoy by Pope Nicholas V. purſuant to which a Bull will be printed out of Hand, whereof Cardinal Albani has ſent his Gentleman to Turin to give the Court Notice. The following Extract of ſix Articles appears here, being Part of the Convention concluded at Florence, between the Miniſter of Spain and thoſe of the Grand Duke, for the Introduction of Don Carlos into Tuſcany.

I. The Grand Duke of Tuſcany ſhall adopt the Infant of Spain, Don Carlos, under the Title of Grand Prince of Tuſcany, as preſumptive Heir to his States: The ſaid Prince ſhall reſide in the Ducal Palace in the Prince's Apartment, and be allow'd 500 Spaniſh Guards.

II. The Magiſtracy, the Senate, and all the Prime Officers, ſhall be obliged to take a new Oath of Fidelity to the Grand Duke, and upon his Death to the Grand Prince Don Carlos,

III. The ſaid Prince engages to pay all the Debts of the Houſe of Medicis; and the Grand Duke and Electreſs Dowager Palatine his Siſter, engage on their Side to make his Highneſs Heir to all their free Lands of Inheritance, except thoſe of Urbino and Ravenna, which the Electreſs ſhall enjoy as an Appennage, together with a Penſion.

IV. The ſaid Electreſs ſhall have the Guardianſhip of the Prince during his Minority, until the Age of 18 Years; after which he ſhall take the firſt Place in Council next the Grand Prince, with the Right of naming three Subjects to any vacant Poſts.

V. The Crown of Spain ſhall furniſh the Grand Duke 60,000 Piſtoles per Annum for the Grand Prince's Entertainment.

VI. The ſame Crown ſhall grant the Subjects of Tuſcany the Liberty of ſending each Year one Ship to trade to the Weſt-Indies.

It is ſaid there are ſome other Articles, where Mention is made of Spaniſh Troops to be admitted into the ſeveral ſtrong Places of Tuſcany, which will appear ſhortly.

Hamburgh, Auguſt 28. N. S. Some Letters from Moſcow, of the 3d Inſtant, adviſe, that an Expreſs from Derbent had brought thither an Account of a Battle fought near Erivan between the Perſian and Turkiſh Armies, wherein the latter was entirely defeated, with the Loſs of 16000 Men, 20 Pieces of Cannon, and all their Equipage.

Hague, Auguſt 31. All that is mention'd in the Vienna Articles, relating to the Conſpiracy ſaid to be diſcover'd againſt the Emperor, is, that 51 Perſons of both Sexes were in Cuſtody, and two Abbots brought from Molck and impriſon'd: That all Perſons who came into and went out of Vienna, were ſtrictly examin'd, and the Guards were kept doubled Day and Night.

Santa Cruz in Barbary, July 6. N. S. The Mountaineers have newly quarrelled among themſelves, and are now at greater Variance than ever; ſo that the Roads are not only render'd unſafe, but we have little or no Communication with the Inland Towns. Mean Time, we hear nothing of King Muley Abdallah's marching with his Army from Miquenez, to reduce to his Obedience the Provinces which have not yet recognized his Title.

Leghorn, Auguſt 11. N. S. His Royal Highneſs our Great Duke has order'd a ſufficient Quantity of Powder to be carried to Pontremoli, for the Guns to be fired upon the Arrival of the Infant Don Carlos. We hear that in the Convention lately made between this Court and that of Spain, no Notice is taken of the Introduction of Spaniſh Garriſons into the Places of Tuſcany; but that in caſe his Catholick Majeſty peremptorily inſiſts upon that Article, the Spaniſh Troops are to be at Piſa, and the Ducal Palace there is to be at Don Carlos's Service. Mean Time, the Country-Palace of the late Cardinal de Medicis is getting ready for him; and the neighbouring Houſes, which are not before inhabited, will ſerve his Life-Guards for their Quarters. The Great Duke has moreover beſpoke ſome Coaches for him; and we expect him to land in this Duchy ſome Time in October next, when we ſhall in all Probability have a great Number of Strangers here, Lodgings being already hired for ſeveral.

Paris, Auguſt 24. N. S. Some Days ago, the Tournelle condemned a Woman to be hanged, for having burnt the Crown of a Man's Head and the Soles of his Feet in ſuch a Manner that he died ſoon after. She committed that Fact, being perſuaded by a cunning Man, that he had bewitched her Husband; and therefore ſince it proceeded from a conjugal Affection, great Intereſt is making to get her Puniſhment commuted.

They write from Perpignan, that a Sadler's Wife of that City was brought to bed the 10th Inſtant of five Girls, who were all baptized the next Day; and that it was not above a Fortnight before, that this Woman's Siſter lay in of five Boys, four of whom were ſtill living; and that their Mother, who had had 15 Children, had brought 12 of them into the World at three Lying-in.

ADVERTISEMENTS

This Day was publiſhed,

For the Improvement of Poor, Heathy, Mountainous LAND,

A Diſſertation on the true Cythisus of the Ancients, proving that the Medicago or Cythiſus Maranthæ (not the Baſtard Sena, as aſſerted by a late Author) is the Plant that was held in ſo great Eſteem among the Romans; alſo, that it may be ſucceſsfully made uſe of for the Improvement of the moſt dry, barren, hilly Land, as the Lucerne has been for that which is moiſter and nearer a Level, and in every Reſpect anſwer the Excellent Character given of it by Columella, Pliny, Virgil, &c.

With Directions for Cultivating it,

In a Letter to a Nobleman, who favoured this Inquiry. To which is added,

An Account of the Great Profits which ariſe, (if carefully managed) from Sowing the Lucerne, and Burning of Clay, the bad Succeſs of which in ſome few Places may be entirely attributed to the Unskilfulneſs of thoſe appointed to manage it.
